How to shoot on your holiday. To bring it back alive!

You may not be a safari man. Nor a James Bond. But please shoot with a Kodak camera and films. You'll find you've brought back your holiday. Alive. And often, from the comfort of your armchair, you'll notice things that you missed when actually there. What is more, you'll be able to share your experiences with the family and friends!

Bring back your holiday on Kodak films.
Complete processing facilities available.

foreword

In this spring evening when Nature is most bountiful with her colourful gifts, I welcome you all—our respected guests, to enjoy the projection of some of the selected colour slides, produced by the eminent creative photographers around the world.

With a sense of pride and joy, I take this opportunity to announce that this year also, for the second time in succession, the Photographic Society of America has accorded special recognition to our humble efforts with the award of two gold medals.

This is our Fifth International Colour Salon. As expected, a larger number of entrants from a larger number of countries have participated in the Salon this year. We received 727 slides from 182 entrants representing 26 countries. Our panel of judges have finally selected 205 slides of 119 entrants. We congratulate the successful entrants for their creations.

It is my pleasant duty to express my grateful thanks to Sri D. S. Nahar, Sri Subroto Ray ARPS, EFIAP, FRSA and Sri Benu Sen ARPS, EFIAP, ANPAS for judging the entries and for making the final selections.

I thank all entrants, donors, patrons, advertisers, the authorities of the Howrah Medical Club, the Press and All India Radio, Calcutta for their cooperation in making the Salon a success.

Special thanks are due to Srimati B. Ghose for lending her voice in the commentary.

I appreciate the admiring role of the Salon Committee and all members of the Society for their team spirit in organising the Salon.

Lastly I thank you being present here to encourage us. I hope you will enjoy the show.
