Exulting in the facsimile of nature is no longer a photographer's glory. A branching tree, the Taj, or a damsel's chiselled face might have been models for the pioneer photographers—but not artists over the world are straining more for discovery than shooting pre-composed objects. But the created beauties of nature have not totally gone out of photographer's quest and as traditional objects of art they still retain charms for viewers too.

In colour photography—especially in transparency hues and tints come out in so rich profusion that we often deplore less of that depth of feeling available in black and white prints. In order to mitigate this chromatic surplus colour artists, therefore, tend to experiment with painstaking solarization and posterization on a thumb-nail canvas of a slide. Projected blow-ups with colour patches on screen reveal and conceal tentalization beauty. And sometimes just formal arrangements or plays with colour takes our breath away.

Experimental or traditional, this year we have received 1361 slides from 343 photo-artists of 36 countries. Our panel of selectors sat through them all and picked out 275 slides for exhibition. On this 19th Salon we have received two PSA gold medals for excellence in conducting the Salon in 1986.

Such excellence will not be lacking this year too as the judges Shri Benu Sen, FRPS, MFIAP, EFSIAP, FNPAS, Shri T. K. Dutta, FRPS, AFIAP, Shri Susanta Banerjee, FRPS, AFIAP, Shri Nimai Guha, AFIAP, and Shri Sunil Hazra, applied their finest acumen for selection. The members of our Society volunteered their service on the asking throughout the year.

Patrons wishing success of such art salon have provided advertisement in our souvenir booklet and press, radio and T. V. have covered the event. Howrah Medical Club has lent the use of their auditorium and Sm. Nobina Roy has made the running commentary with her alto voice.

To all of them and to the viewers go my thanks on behalf of our society. Above all, we are grateful to Shri Chintamony Kar, for gracing this occasion by his presence.
